

A Layered Approach to Classroom Management

With hours of interactive and engaging content, our expert team of experienced and diverse instructors offers insights and wisdom on issues of classroom management, navigating challenging conversations, and setting expectations in the classroom. In a conversational style with engaging visuals and timely examples, we provide essential guidance and support to those teaching in the higher education space.

Should I Talk about This?

How, when, and if you might choose to talk about polarizing topics in the classroom

A Trauma-Informed Approach to Classroom Management

Practical direction on responding to difficult student questions

Engaging and Managing Classroom Environments

Addressing conflict in both the online and in-person teaching setting

Boundary Setting in the Classroom

Setting expectations in the syllabus and during the first class around classroom behavior

$149/Individual or $2500 for your whole campus

Brian Van Brunt, EdD
Director of Behavior & Threat Management

Our expert team provides practical advice for dealing with difficult topics and challenging students.

Jeanne Clifton
Salem State University

Tammy Hodo, PhD
All Things Diverse

Lisa Kovach, PhD
University of Toledo

Amy Murphy, PhD
Angelo State University

Chris Taylor, PhD
InterACTT

Jacques Whitfield, JD
Sterling Group